

Steering Committee on Population Policy (1 December 2014 to 31 March 2018)

The Government established the high-level Human Resources Planning Commission on 1 April 2018, aiming at formulating co-ordinated human resources strategies for developing Hong Kong further into a high value-added and more diversified economy. The function of the Steering Committee on Population Policy was subsumed under the Commission. The information below is for reference only.

Membership

Chairperson Chief Secretary for Administration

Members Secretary for Home Affairs
Secretary for Labour and Welfare
Secretary for Financial Services and the Treasury
Secretary for Commerce and Economic Development
Secretary for Security
Secretary for Education
Secretary for Food and Health
Director of Immigration
Director of Administration
Head, Central Policy Unit
Commissioner for Census and Statistics
Government Economist

Term of Reference

In pursuance of the population policy objective of “developing and nurturing a population that will continuously support and drive Hong Kong’s socio-economic development as Asia’s world city, and engendering a socially inclusive and cohesive society that allows individuals to realise their potential, with a view to attaining quality life for all residents and families”, the Steering Committee on Population Policy will –

- (1) oversee the implementation of new or improved measures formulated following the four-month public engagement exercise ended in early 2014 and review progress from time to time to ensure that such agreed measures have been followed through.
- (2) keep in view the main social and economic challenges brought about by our ageing population, refine existing policies and measures as necessary, and coordinate cross-bureaux initiatives to ensure that our policy measures remain relevant and effective to address these challenges.

- (3) engage stakeholders and experts from outside the Government from time to time in furthering the work in (1) and (2) above.